

In the heart of Fiji, where tradition meets innovation, Rooster Poultry stands as a symbol of quality and community. Our journey is one of dedication, innovation, and a deep-rooted connection to the land and people of Fiji.

From Our Farms to Your Table

“We are what we eat” is a truth that resonates in the food industry and Rooster Poultry strives to embody that belief in every possible way. We deliver the finest chicken to the people of Fiji and the Pacific Islands.

Our chickens begin with a great story and the best core ingredients. It starts in the vibrant communities and our farms of Ba, Lautoka, and Nadi, where nutritious feed, ideal conditions, and the hard work and dedication of our passionate extended family come together. We’re not just a company; we’re a family of 475 dedicated individuals.. From the bustling farms of Navau to every corner of Fiji, our commitment is to bring the best quality and taste to your table.

Quality You Can Taste

Rooster Poultry stands out for its unwavering commitment to quality. We’re the only chicken producer in Fiji with both ISO 9001 Quality and ISO 22000 Food Safety certifications, which ensure that every bite meets the highest standards in food safety and quality. Our chicken is synonymous with safety, quality, and deliciousness.

Leading the Way in Sustainability

Sustainability is a core consideration within Rooster Poultry's business operation. We've invested in one of the largest agricultural solar systems in the Pacific Islands, reducing our carbon footprint by more than 5,000 tons of CO₂, equivalent to planting 130,000 trees or replacing over 2 million litres of diesel. We have also incorporated manure recycling into our operations and have other sustainability initiatives we are currently working towards.

Securing Future, Community Involvement

May 2024 marked a new chapter in our journey with the inauguration of a $13 million state-of-the-art primary processing line upgrade at our Navau site by Fiji's Prime Minister. Our production plant now has the capacity to process 1.95 million chickens per month which has tripled our capacity. This new facility ensures that Fijians always have access to the best quality chicken. We're also committed to giving back, with deep involvement in community support through diverse sponsorships and Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) initiatives. With 40% of Rooster Poultry owned by FPNF, more than 417,000 Fijians representing over 85% of the country's families, have a stake in Rooster Poultry, truly making it Fiji's Chicken.
